22nd Balkan Children Karate Championships 19-21 May 2017 Istanbul & Turkey

Dear Friends

It is a great honor for me to invite all competitors from the Balkan countries to participate in the 22nd Balkan Championships for Children, which will take place in Istanbul, Turkey, on 19-21 May 2017.

Organizing such an event is prestigious and a great responsibility. We hope that all participants will feel the Turkish hospitality.

Karate Federation of Balkan is actively working towards the endorsement of the philosophy and spirit of Karate, promotes and develops Karate as an elite sport, as well as a mass sport for everyone. The Balkan Karate Championship in Istanbul is more than just a competition, it is a place where friendship, respect and tolerance meet.

The Karate sport is a challenge to the human spirit, the will and strength of the human body, daring and respect towards the opponent and a century old wisdom from the path.

Karate speaks all languages and connects all people and generations, regardless of race, sex and religion.

I wish all participants good health and strength, boldness respect and dignity, and many sports victories.

Please accept my most sincere greetings and best wishes for success.

Yours sincerely

Esat DELIHASAN
The President of FBK

After the conquest in 1453, the mosaics with human figures were covered with a special stucco. This layer functioned as a shelter for years.

THE BYZANTINE ISTANBUL

Byzantium was the name of the city founded by the Megaran commander Byzas. As the Roman Empire expanded towards the Asia Minor, the Emperor Constantine declared the city as the capital in 330 and gave it his name: Constantinople. Only about 65 years later, the Roman Empire collapsed and the Eastern Roman Empire came to be known as the Byzantine Empire. The city continued to be the heart of the Empire, until its fall to Ottomans in 1453.

The reign of Byzantium left Istanbul an immense cultural heritage. Declared as the official religion as early as the 4th century, Christian art flourished on these lands and lived through extraordinarily refined styles such as the High Middle Ages and Renaissance, burgeoning parallel to the history of the Empire. The iconic Hagia Sophia, the beautiful Chora Church, the Pantocrator Monastery, the Church of Sts Sergius and Bacchus are some of the masterpieces that can still be visited today. The Balat area is rich in Byzantine heritage. Studios Monastery stands out with its once glorious library. The Great Palace Mosaics Museum offers a glimpse of the elegant opulence of bygone days.

Basilica Cistern

CISTERNS, AQUEDUCTS AND HOLY SPRINGS

Due to its water problem, Istanbul is rich in aqueducts, which carried water from the Thracian forests, and cisterns that were required to reserve water. Two such architectural highlights are the Aqueduct of Valens and the Basilica Cistern. Rising majestically over the Atatürk Boulevard, the Aqueduct of Valens was commissioned by Emperor Valens in AD 378. It carried water to the Basilica Cistern, the reservoir for the Great Palace. Today the Basilica Cistern offers one of Istanbul's most atmospheric sights with ornamented columns reflected on water.

Lying across the two continents, İstanbul is by all means one of the most popular tourist attractions on Earth. The tiny strait between these two continents, Bosphorus is what makes this city unique. Besides, numerous historical places fascinate the ones interested in cultural tourism.

Istanbul has been populated by the humankind since the 6th century BC. Including Roman, Byzantine and the Ottoman Empires, this very old but fascinating city functioned as a home to many tribes, nomads and of course; civilizations. Not only hosting, İstanbul was also the administrative and religious center of these three empires mentioned. What this privilege brings about is an endless reserve of religious places, historical buildings, museums, palaces, structures carrying the characteristic features of a number of different human societies. Maybe this is the reason why İstanbul has always been a city full of tolerance towards any kind of diversities. In İstanbul, mosques, churches and synagogues stand side by side.

İstanbul has always been a major trade center of the world. Since the city is a main junction point where sea and land routes all intersect, İstanbul became a pivotal exchange point globally.

In terms of population, it is the biggest metropolis of Europe. İstanbul also offers lots of opportunities. Not to mention endless number of historical places, you can find modern art galleries, exhibitions, festivals, museums, special events in this city-alive each day. But even walking in the streets might be a pleasure, since each corner opens up to another fabulous structure dating back to hundreds of years before today.

GALATA TOWER

One of İstanbul's the most fascinating monuments; Galata Tower was built in 1348 by the Genoese in İstanbul. However, this is the second tower nearby this area. The first Galata Tower was built closer to the sea. But it was demolished by the Latin Crusaders during the Sack of Constantinople. Anyway, at the top of the 'new' Galata Tower, you can enjoy a panoramic landscape that covers a great deal of İstanbul. It is open to the visitors each day, during the day time.

Described by the historian Procopius as “the city surrounded by a wreath of water”, İstanbul boasts an exquisite geographical position and deep roots in history. With a history going back 8500 years, İstanbul is an ancient city that is simultaneously modern and fresh. Old-world and modern-world, Islamic and Mediterranean coexist in its captivating atmosphere. The distinctive characteristic skyline of the city, combining monumental minarets with modern skyscrapers, is perhaps the best proof. The outstanding universal value of İstanbul resides in its unique unification of diverse architectural styles of many eras and civilizations. Roman aqueducts, Byzantine churches, Venetian towers, Ottoman palaces, modern buildings and contemporary plazas give the city its matchless beauty.
