1 Initial Greetings

1.1 President of the World Karate Federation Antonio Espinós

The world of Karate is about to experience one of the most anticipated moments in recent history: the qualification to the Youth Olympic Games Buenos Aires 2018.

The hopes and dreams of thousands of young karatekas will take the stage in a memorable event to be held in Umag (Croatia) from June 29 to 30; the history of the sport will then be written as the first Olympic Karate athletes will be earning their tickets to star in the debut of the ancient modality at the Youth Olympic Games.

We are so proud to have the whole world witnessing our amazing sport in action at the Youth Olympic Games. The Karate event in Buenos Aires 2018 will be a chance to showcase the talent, values and many sporting abilities of our modality to the world. While this anticipated moment comes, we will have one more opportunity to continue inspiring generations of young karatekas in the memorable Youth Olympic Games 2018 Qualification Tournament.

The city of Umag in Croatia has played a key role in helping us to deliver this vision since the idyllic seaside city has hosted for the past years the highly successful WKF Youth Training Camp and WKF Karate 1 Youth Cup. Now, Umag becomes again the heart of young Karate with the first Youth Olympic Games Qualification Tournament.

This event will add another chapter to the history of our sport; in this sense, I would like to thank the Croatian Karate Federation and its president Stjepan Celan for the immense support they are providing to the delivery of this event.

I wish all athletes and coaches the very best at this competition and I look forward to sharing this historic moment for Karate with thousands and thousands of fans.

Antonio Espinós
President WKF

I am looking forward to see you all together in Umag, Croatia and I wish you a lot of success in the competition!
